

ANNOTATED SAMPLE FIRST NATION PROPERTY ASSESSMENT LAW (NEW BRUNSWICK)

The First Nations Fiscal Management Act (“FMA”) provides a framework for First Nation real property taxation on reserve. First Nation fiscal powers are set out in Part 1 of the FMA and include, under section 5, the authority to make laws respecting taxation for local purposes of reserve lands and interests in reserve lands.

A First Nation wishing to implement property taxation will require two core laws, the assessment law and taxation law. These two laws work together to establish the property taxation framework. The assessment law creates the framework for conducting assessments of interests in land on reserve, including the duties of the assessor, the applicable assessment rules and practices, and the establishment and conduct of the Assessment Review Board.

Laws enacted under the FMA must comply with the legislative framework, which includes all requirements in the FMA, any regulations made under paragraph 36(1)(d) of the FMA and any standards established by the First Nations Tax Commission (“Commission”) under section 35 of the FMA. Canada has made the First Nations Assessment Appeal Regulations (“Assessment Appeal Regulations”) and the First Nations Assessment Inspection Regulations (“Assessment Inspection Regulations”). The Commission has established Standards for First Nation Property Assessment Laws (“Assessment Law Standards”) that provide further requirements for the form and content of assessment laws. The Commission has also established the Standards for the Timing of First Nation Annual Tax Rates and Expenditure Laws (“Timing Standards”).

The Commission prepares sample laws for use and adaptation by First Nations. The sample First Nation Property Assessment Law (“sample law”) complies with the legislative framework and provides a comprehensive assessment law that reflects assessment practices on reserve lands and incorporates components of the New Brunswick provincial assessment scheme where appropriate. It provides a best practices sample for use and adaptation by First Nations in drafting their own FMA assessment laws.

This annotation of the sample law provides explanatory and additional information on key aspects of the sample law, and is intended to assist First Nations in creating their own property taxation laws. This annotated law is not intended to provide legal advice or legal interpretation, and should not be relied upon as such.

(6) The tax administrator [assessor] must enter on the assessment and tax roll the date of mailing an Assessment and Tax Notice.

This section allows chargeholders to have their names added to the assessment and tax roll in respect of an assessable property.

Once the chargeholder has been added to the roll, they will receive copies of all assessment and tax notices sent in respect of the property.

The law must provide for assessment and tax notices to be delivered to all persons named on the assessment and tax roll in respect of an assessable property. The law should indicate whether it is the tax administrator or the assessor who will be responsible for mailing these notices and for the additional responsibilities set out in this section. The date of mailing the notices must be at least thirty days before the tax due date under the Taxation Law. Assessment Law Standards subsection 7.1. (10) The assessor may correct an Assessment and Tax Notice that contains an error, omission or misdescription and may mail an amended Assessment and Tax Notice, notwithstanding the fact that the time for issuance of the Assessment and Tax Notice has passed, and an Assessment and Tax Notice so amended is valid and effective from the date on which the original Assessment and Tax Notice was mailed.

(11) No Assessment and Tax Notice is irregular, incomplete or otherwise invalid and no exemption from assessment or taxation is conferred by reason of an error, omission or misdescription in an Assessment and Tax Notice or by reason of the non-receipt of an Assessment and Tax Notice by any person.
